OC Nonprofits Boost Revenue 5.3% to $1.8B

Orange County’s largest nonprofits reported their combined revenue increased 5.3% to $1.8 billion for the 12 months ended June 30, according to the Business Journal’s annual list.

They boosted expenditures at a higher 7% pace to $1.5 billion.

The coronavirus obviously put a damper on activities, as there were fewer volunteers out in public—a decline of 17.5% to 121,773. Hence, the number people helped fell 18% to 6.9 million. Paid staff dropped 2.3% to 12,590.

For the second straight year, fears that President Donald Trump’s 2017 tax cuts would affect donations haven’t borne fruit in Orange County as 58 reported revenue increases while 34 had declines. A year ago, 65 nonprofits reported an increase in revenue while 26 had a decline.

The list ranks 92 nonprofits with headquarters or major operations in Orange County and revenue higher than $3 million. This year’s list reflects cash contributions and in-kind goods and services such as volunteering.

The biggest leap in fundraising was 182% to $13.1 million at Aliso Viejo’s Boys & Girls Clubs of Central Orange Coast, up 115% to $10.8 million at Mendie Hoss of Orange County, up 107% to $8.9 million.

One of the biggest drops was $10.3 million, or 60%, to $6.9 million at Santa Ana-based Goodwill of Orange County.
